

Sabine Nabecker

After graduating from the Medical University of Vienna, Austria in 2013, Sabine Nabecker came to the University Hospital of Bern (Inselspital) for her doctoral thesis at the Department of Anaesthesiology and Pain management under the supervision of Associate Professor Dr. med. Lorenz Theiler and Professor Dr. med. Robert Greif, MME, FERC. She is currently resident at an emergency department in Bern. Her specialization goal is emergency medicine, anaesthesiology and intensive care medicine. In addition she is currently instructor candidate for the Advanced Life Support Course and the European Trauma Course of the European Resuscitation Council. Besides her clinical education she is planning to pursue an academic career in medical education and simulation in acute care medicine focusing on resuscitation, airway management and trauma.